- c. Commission artist for a new Nichols Hills city flag and seal.

Mr. Jordan Winn, partner and designer with Labor Division, discussed with the Centennial Committee the process of redesigning a new city flag. The first phase of this process will be a discovery workshop, with three committee members attending, to gather ideas for the flag. The second phase will be to create a flag survey for a select group of people to complete.

The third phase will be a nouns list that represents Nichols Hills. Mr. Winn will then compile the list of everything to be reviewed by the Centennial Committee before the design phase starts.

Mr. Winn will present around twelve designs which the Centennial Committee will review and narrow down to one design to be presented to the City Council for approval.

Once the flag is completed, Mr. Winn will begin working on redesigning the City seal.

- d. Light show with drones.
e. Park improvements commemorating the Centennial.
f. Events of celebration with food trucks, children's activities, and entertainment.

- g. Design a centennial book and select an author.

Centennial Committee discussed various authors to create a centennial book for the City of Nichols Hills.

- h. Identify funding sources for events.

The City will be funding the City flag and City seal redesign. Future budgets will have money set aside for centennial celebrations once those activities are decided. Donors may be required for larger items, such as pieces of art or other items.

- i. Historical items for Nichols Hills collections.

- j. Determine the next meeting date and time.

The Centennial Committee instructed City staff to schedule quarterly meetings beginning the first quarter of 2025.
